Section 2: PROMOTIONAL PATHWAY

Continuous Professional Development, (CPD) Examinations and Assessments

2.1 Role of Referee

2.2 Grade of Referees

2.3 Pre-Requisites

2.4 How to Apply & the Examination

2.5 Appraisals, Assessment, Examination and CPD.

2.1 ROLE OF THE REFEREE

2.1.1

Referees are volunteers who give up their time to support competitions and grading's. They are found centre stage and ensure that the game is played fairly and safely.

2.1.2

There are various levels of referees and depending on their award they are encouraged to referee at different levels of event. Referees are responsible for ensuring that the game is played fairly and safely. They observe the action and award appropriate scores and penalties.

Referee in Charge (when in operation) is responsible for coordinating and supporting the referees at the events. The referee in charge may be consulted regarding any questions that referees, coaches, players or spectators may have in relation to refereeing at the competition.

The Referee shall be assisted by two qualified referees who shall be positioned outside the mat area at the control table. These three officials shall decide on matters pertaining to the contest and shall reach their final decision on a "majority of three" basis. These referees shall control the video system (when in operation) and all three referees may refer to the video in difficult situations which may arise during the contest. The referee in charge of the event may be consulted if necessary and is authorised to offer an opinion in difficult circumstances. Only the three referees and where necessary, the referee in charge should be involved in any decisions. Other referees and officials should not involve themselves in any discussions or decisions.

The use of the Care System at any event shall be decided by the tournament director or senior grading officer under the guidance of the IJA.

2.1.3

Refereeing roles may suit anybody with existing or prior judo experience and who is willing to give up their time to support events particularly those who enjoy taking control of contests, making decisions and wish to develop a better understanding of the precise technicalities of the sport.

Irish Judo Association

2.1.4

Common skills that referees require include: Ability to concentrate for long periods of time, good ability to make decisions, good communication skills and a commitment to the sport of judo.

2.1.5

Referees are an integral part of the competition set-up without whom competitions would not run. Reasons to get involved include: to gain a better understanding of the sport, to be a part of a successful event, to see all the action up close and personal, to promote your sport, to make new friends.

2.1.6

If you want to get involved in Refereeing you will need to be either a current judoka or have some prior judo experience. New candidates should be over 15 years of age with a minimum grade of 2nd KYU (Blue) with a desire to move forward with their grade and keep up to date with all rules changes.

2.1.7

You will need to attend a course to develop your understanding of the rules and scoring criteria and complete a theory exam. You will then be invited to complete a practical assessment to gain your award. In the meantime, you will be able to practice your Refereeing under the supervision of an experienced Referee.

2.1.8

As the age of the competitor increases so does the level and standard of competition and associated with this, is the obligation on the referee to ensure that they are in a position to deal with the complexities of running and controlling the mat without interfering with the natural flow of the fight.

2.2.1

The objective of the National Referee Committee is to create a refereeing environment within the association which provides the following: maintain uniformed and professional standards of refereeing, offer fair and safe contest conditions for competitors, provide impartial refereeing at all times, improve relations between coaches, players and referees, develop a system of assessment which is clear, transparent and efficient, develop a career path in refereeing for association members, similar to the grading system, leading towards higher personal achievement and satisfaction, encourage young judoka to consider Refereeing as an extended part of their sport.

2.2.2

The following Referee levels will apply and form part of the overall strategy of the Association:

National C trainee - this is an entry level to gain confidence, knowledge and experience of refereeing whilst under supervision. It is expected that candidates would already have refereed in small club competitions before applying for this level. Such referees would be supervised by National A or B referees who are taking part as one of the three contest officials. The National C (trainee) would partake as a referee in Minor and Pre-Cadet Categories. The National C (trainee) will referee at provincial and national events for a period of at least 6 months and have their Referee Grade card stamped accordingly by the Tournament Director.

National C - a referee who attains National C has the confidence of the Committee to officiate as a full Member of the "team of three", i.e. referee and care system. However, at least one National B, or higher-level referee must be in the team of three. For National Championships and/or team selections, National C referees would not normally officiate as a referee in finals. The National C would partake in refereeing in Minor, Pre-Cadet and Cadet Categories. Prior to presenting for promotion for the National C will referee at provincial and national events for a period of at least 1 year and attend a refereeing seminar during that period and have their Referee Grade card stamped accordingly by the Tournament Director or Referee in Charge

National B - a referee who attains level B has the confidence of the Commission to officiate as a full member of the "team of three", i.e. referee and care system. Prior to presenting for promotion for the National B will have refereed at provincial and national events for a period of at least 2 years and attend a refereeing seminar during that period and have their Referee Grade card stamped accordingly by the Tournament Director or Referee in Charge

National A - a referee who attains National A will have refereed at a National Level involving higher levels of competency, skill and communication through the referee pathway and experience. The National A will referee at provincial, national and overseas events at local level and have their Referee Grade card stamped accordingly by the Tournament Director or Referee in Charge.

Senior National - This is the highest national level available and may be awarded to individuals who have, in the opinion of the National Refereeing committee, contributed significantly to Irish Judo refereeing over a long period and who meet the minimum criteria as laid down in 2.3.1 of these procedures and who are successful at assessment.

Record of Activity

It is the responsibility of each referee to ensure that their record card is signed at each event by the tournament director or senior referee in charge. If the card is not signed and there is no record of the referee attending the event, the event will not be considered. Referees who attend international events, including seminars, must complete an International Trip Report (See Appendix) and make available to the National Referee Committee any electronic information and documents supplied at the event.

2.2.3

Any candidate expressing an interest in Refereeing is required to notify the Refereeing Committee and attend a meeting with the Committee. The aim of the meeting is to establish reasons why the candidate wishes to start refereeing and to manage the expectations of the candidate regarding the Refereeing Pathway. The referee must then attend a training seminar.

B. Referee Marking Guidelines

Presence and Voice:

Includes physical appearance and ability to appear calm, competent and in complete control in order to gain respect of players, coaches, spectators etc. Control of the contest begins by ensuring the contestants follow the correct bowing procedure when entering the competition/contest area. Referees should maintain a good posture in tachi-waza and katame-waza. Referees should control not only the contestants but also coaches, medical team, scoreboard keepers and time keepers. The referee's voice must be strong, clear and must be well projected.

Procedure and Signals:

The referee should ensure that the players enter and leave the contest area properly. The referee should know exactly where the medical team are situated and should immediately call in that direction when medical team are required. The referee should ensure that all equipment is in place and working properly prior to starting the contest and be attentive to scores and penalties being recorded correctly.

Signals should be held for approximately 2-3 seconds showing correct procedure, posture and slight rotation as required for the control table to clearly see what has happened.

Appreciation:

Ability to understand and assess technical nuances including attitude and approach of players. The referee must demonstrate an appreciation and understanding that players adopt an aggressive or negative approach at different points throughout the contest. This can vary depending on whether the player is winning or losing. Particular attention should be paid to negative judo. The referee must show good understanding of katame-waza by calling mate, osaekomi, toketa and ippon on time and accurately. The referee must demonstrate a clear understanding of when the overall action transitions from tachi-waza to katame-waza. The referee must give athletes an appropriate opportunity to apply katame-waza actions but must also be mindful of athletes just attempting to waste time without action.

Penalties:

It is of vital importance that penalties are awarded correctly and on time for the level of infringement committed. Penalties should be awarded taking in to account the intent of the athlete's action. Penalties should be consistent with the prohibited act committed. E.g. Referee should demonstrate proper judgement when considering awarding a penalty for non-combativity versus excessively defensive posture. Penalties must be awarded showing the correct signal to the athletes to avoid confusion.

Mobility and Distance

The referee must position and move appropriately to accommodate the athletes' movement, thus being in the best position to effectively evaluate actions. The pace and manner of movement will be dictated by the athlete's actions. The referee must be appropriately positioned quickly to effectively and safely control katame-waza situations such as shime-waza, kansetsu-waza and osaekomi-waza and not seriously block camera views.

Irish Judo Association
Irish Sport HQ, National Sports Campus, Abbotstown, Dublin, D15 DY62

V.A.T. Reg No. IE4806869B
President : Mr Seán Fleming

Irish Judo Association

The referee should maintain an optimum distance of 2 to 3 meters from the athletes and adapt to the athlete's strategy, e.g. further distance for larger, heavy weight players, or faster more mobile players. Should operate generally within the contest area, but may go outside in special circumstances.

Scoring:

The correct level of technical scoring for all actions in tachi-waza and katame-waza must be applied consistently well, scores must not be pre-empted, they must be evaluations for what has happened, and not what the referee anticipates might happen. It should be noted that repeated instances of significant errors in score levels are not acceptable.

Determination:

The referee must show the ability to be consistently competent in providing good quality opinions of situations, despite other different opinions. The referee may request support from colleagues working in the care system in difficult situations. Good co-operation is expected between the referee and the care system personnel.

Team Work:

Team work is a vital component of good refereeing and when applied well leads to correct and timely decisions being reached. The referee should be aware of the other team members and watch for signals from them throughout and in particular regarding scores and penalties. If in doubt the referee should consult with the other team members when difficult situations present. E.g. Simultaneous techniques and Kaeshi-Waza. Unless both the care system officials disagree with the referee it should not be necessary for them to interrupt the contest. Discussions should be kept to a minimum to ensure continuity of the contest. In all cases of Hansoku-Make the referee shall announce Matte, consult with the care system officials and make a decision based on a "majority of three".

Care System (When Used)

The Referee shall be assisted by two qualified referees who shall be positioned outside the mat area at the control table. These three officials shall decide on matters pertaining to the contest and shall reach their final decision on a "majority of three" basis. These referees shall control the video system (when in operation) and all three referees may refer to the video in difficult situations which may arise during the contest. The referee in charge of the event may be consulted if necessary and is authorised to offer an opinion in difficult circumstances. Only the three referees, and where necessary the referee in charge, should be involved in any decisions. Other referees and officials should not involve themselves in any discussions or decisions. The use of the care system at any event shall be decided by the tournament director or senior grading officer under the guidance of the IJA.

The above report is to be completed for all tournaments outside of Ireland. When attending EJU or IJF refereeing seminars, a full written report should be provided within 14 days. In addition, all electronic information, handouts and other relevant documentation should be returned to head office with the above-mentioned report no later than 14 days following the seminar.

The purpose of these reports is to offer a better understanding of current international interpretations of the rules and to evaluate and monitor the ongoing contribution of IJA referees and to assist in the training and assessment of referees within the IJA. At the discretion of the IJA, referees who fail to submit a report or who submit a substandard report will not be permitted to attend any further events until such a time as the outstanding report(s) have been submitted. This report can be completed by editing this Word document or typed on separate pages. In either case, it must contain all the information sought.
